

Attention Residents:

If you leave for a non-medically necessary appointment, we reserve the right to refuse you re-entry when you return.

The Coronavirus has been declared a national and state emergency
Please be conscious of your fellow residents and do what's right!!
Do not leave the community for non-medical appointments

The Coronavirus is particularly dangerous to the elderly. To prevent contact with the infected, the Department of Health Services for the State of Wisconsin has asked assisted living communities to restrict entrance to medically necessary personnel, facility staff and those entering to attend the dying. Further, we have the right to refuse re-entry to residents leaving the assisted living community for non-medical appointments (beauty shop, eating out, shopping, taxes, etc.).

LEAVING THE COMMUNITY

By signing below, I acknowledge I have read this page and understand it.

I understand that should I leave the Assisted Living Community I live in for any reason other than to seek medical attention, I could be refused re-entry to the community. I also understand leaving the community for non-medically necessary appointments may cause me to come in contact with the Coronavirus, thereby infecting myself and the residents and staff of the Assisted Living Community in which I live.
